Our Mission:
*Employing Revolutionary
Methods, Getting

HELP.org, Inc. (Help Elevate and Liberate People, Nonprofit Organization Incorporated), is an inter-faith, multicultural organization born out of a sincere concern for our local and global community. We are employing a proactive-holistic approach to community development. Understanding the immense impact that poverty, drugs, racism, and sexism have had on our community, we are promoting a system of intense rehabilitation, catering to the social, physical, and spiritual needs of the community. Through a collaboration of diverse, but like-minded organizations—under an umbrella called The S.O.S. (Save our Streets) Coalition—we hope to implement several innovative programs that will inspire our community to empower itself. As scholar-activist Toni Cade Bambara once stated,

“Revolution begins with the self, in the self.”
